

Regulations

Cambridge Young Learners English Tests (YLE), Key English Test (KET),
Preliminary English Test (PET), First Certificate in English (FCE),
Certificate in Advanced English (CAE), Certificate of Proficiency in English (CPE),
Business English Certificates (BEC), Certificates in English Language Skills (CELS)
International Legal English Certificate (ILEC), Teaching Knowledge Test (TKT)

2007

UNIVERSITY of CAMBRIDGE
ESOL Examinations

These are the Regulations under which Cambridge ESOL examinations are provided.

Further information about Cambridge ESOL examinations and a list of authorised centres can be found at www.CambridgeESOL.org. Anyone who requires additional information should contact their nearest authorised centre.

Definitions

ESOL: English for Speakers of Other Languages.

Cambridge ESOL: the short name for University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, a part of Cambridge Assessment, Europe's largest assessment agency, which is itself a non-teaching department of the University of Cambridge.

Centre: an authorised Cambridge ESOL examination centre. Centres are independent institutions; they are not directly controlled by Cambridge ESOL, and Cambridge ESOL is not liable for actions or omissions by centres. In entering for a Cambridge ESOL examination, schools' and candidates' contractual relationship is with the centre.

Local Secretary: the main point of contact at a centre.

Candidate: someone who has registered with an authorised Cambridge ESOL centre to take an examination.

Important note

Cambridge ESOL accepts examination entries on the basis that schools and candidates fully understand the Regulations. Local Secretaries may ask candidates (or their school representatives) to confirm that this is the case.

All candidates should receive a copy of the Summary Regulations for Candidates, which outlines the main regulations in a simplified format.

General regulations and conditions

1 Entry regulations

- 1.1 Cambridge ESOL examinations may be taken by people of any age, gender, race, nationality or religion. Although they are designed for native speakers of languages other than English, no language related restrictions apply. However, the following restrictions apply:
- Candidates may not enter for both the FCE which takes place on a Tuesday and the FCE which takes place on a Saturday in the same session.
 - Candidates may not enter for CELS tests in the same skill area at different levels in the same session (e.g. CELS Reading Vantage and CELS Reading Higher).
 - Candidates may not enter for only part of an examination. All components must be taken on the dates specified and it is not possible to take part of an examination in one session and the remainder at another time. Any exceptions to this regulation are detailed in these Regulations or in the Examinations and Timetables booklet.
- 1.2 Candidates may enter for different examinations in the same session (e.g. FCE and CAE or BEC Preliminary and BEC Vantage), as long as satisfactory arrangements can be made at the centre.
- 1.3 Although there are no age restrictions for Cambridge ESOL examinations, it should be noted that YLE tests are designed for a specific age range. (See the Examinations and Timetables booklet for details.)
- 1.4 Attempts to breach the entry regulations may result in the entry being cancelled without any refund of fees.

2 Entering for an examination

- 2.1 Entries for the examinations are made through an authorised Cambridge ESOL centre. A list of centres is available at www.CambridgeESOL.org or from the address on the back of these Regulations. The centre will advise the school or candidate on matters such as the examination dates, entry closing dates and examination fees.
- 2.2 Fees for Cambridge ESOL examinations are charged by centres for each candidate entered. Fees may vary from region to region, depending on variations in local costs.
- 2.3 Cambridge ESOL does not advise on textbooks or courses of study, or recommend teaching establishments.

- 2.4 Centres decide which examinations and which sessions to offer. Sometimes, they may not be able to accept an entry because, for example, they are not running the examination in that session, or they already have as many candidates as they can accommodate for the examination, or they do not have enough candidates to meet Cambridge ESOL's minimum entry requirements.
- 2.5 Where possible, Cambridge ESOL makes provision for candidates with special requirements (e.g. extra time or adapted papers). Enquiries about this service should be made through authorised centres as soon as possible as special arrangements requests generally need to be received by Cambridge ESOL about 8–12 weeks before the examination (depending on what is required and for which examination). Up to 6 months notice may be required for some examinations.
- 2.6 Entries made after the entry closing date may be accepted on payment of an additional fee. However, acceptance of late entries will depend upon the facilities and examination material being available at the centre in question.
- 2.7 Entries cannot be transferred from one examination session to a future one or to an examination at a different level. Entries may, however, be transferred from one centre to another within a session, either in the same country or in another country, as long as the transfer is for all parts of the examination. This possibility should be discussed with the centres concerned although it should be noted that there may be an additional cost for this service.
- 2.8 If a candidate entry is withdrawn for medical reasons or if the candidate misses the examination because of illness, the centre may make a full or partial refund of the fee, as long as a doctor's certificate or statement is sent with the refund request. This statement should give the medical reasons why the candidate had to withdraw from the examination and must confirm that the candidate was unable to sit the examination. Requests for refunds for other reasons will only be considered in exceptional cases. If the request is approved, the entry will be removed and no Statement of Result will be issued.

3 Taking the examination

- 3.1 Candidates will receive a Statement of Entry from the centre, which tells them where and when the examinations will take place. This Statement should be checked very carefully, particularly for any incorrect name spelling, and any corrections should be drawn to the attention of the Local Secretary immediately. A fee may be charged for name amendments requested after certificates have been issued.
- 3.2 For security reasons, requests to deviate from the published timetable are not normally approved. However, if it is impossible for a candidate to sit an examination at the scheduled time, the centre may ask Cambridge ESOL if it is possible to vary the time of the paper(s) affected. Such requests must be received at least one week before the published date of the paper(s). The decision of Cambridge ESOL in this respect is final and binding.

- 3.3 Candidates may be asked to complete a Candidate Information Sheet. This provides information that Cambridge ESOL uses as part of its research programme to improve the quality of the examinations. The information provided is treated anonymously and is strictly confidential.
- 3.4 Candidates may also be required to take a short written Anchor Test. This provides information that Cambridge ESOL uses as part of its quality control programme. Candidates' performance in the anchor test will not affect their examination results.
- 3.5 The rules and regulations on how candidates must behave during the examination are given in the Notice to Candidates. Centres will give a copy to each candidate. Anyone not following the instructions contained in this Notice may be stopped from taking the examination or may be subject to Cambridge ESOL's Malpractice procedures, full details of which are available at www.CambridgeESOL.org or from the address on the back of these Regulations. Malpractice such as copying is likely to be noticed by the invigilator or supervisor, but may also be detected by examiners during marking and by routine statistical checks applied to candidates' answers. Any candidate found to have been involved in malpractice may not receive a result. Candidates have the right to appeal, via their Local Secretary, against any decision relating to malpractice, and details of the Cambridge ESOL Appeals Procedure are also available on the website.
- 3.6 Cambridge ESOL examinations are marked by qualified staff who are subject to a rigorous training and monitoring programme. Part of the monitoring of Oral Examiners may involve the audio-recording of selected live interviews. Candidates should, therefore, be aware that their Speaking test may be recorded on audio-cassette.
- 3.7 Cambridge ESOL regularly inspects its authorised centres to ensure that they are administering examinations according to its strict guidelines.
- 3.8 If there is any problem which might affect the performance of a candidate during the examination, this must be reported to the centre on the day of the examination or immediately afterwards. If appropriate, the Local Secretary will report it to Cambridge ESOL. Special Consideration may be given in such instances and, where appropriate, the marks of affected candidates are adjusted to take the adverse circumstances into account. Where candidates have been given Special Consideration in this way but have still failed the examination, centres will be informed. Special Consideration is not given once results have been sent to centres.

4 After the examination

- 4.1 Results are issued about 6-8 weeks after the examination. For some examinations, the Statement of Results contains information about individual paper performance as well as the overall grade. Individual paper performance is not given to those candidates with grade X (absent from part of the examination), grade Z (absent from all of the examination), or PENDING (result to follow).

- 4.2 If a school or candidate believes that an incorrect result has been awarded, their centre may submit a Results Enquiry. The Local Secretary will advise on the fees for this service and the dates by which all such requests should be received. It is extremely rare for such enquiries to lead to a change in the result for the following reasons: the majority of papers in Cambridge ESOL examinations are, at the time of initial marking, either machine-marked or clerically marked with double checking; examiner-marked papers are marked only after intensive training of examiners. All examiners are monitored and, in borderline or disputed cases, the mark is reviewed.
- 4.3 If a school or candidate is dissatisfied with the outcome of a Results Enquiry, their centre may submit an Appeal. The Local Secretary will be able to advise on fees for this service and the dates by which appeals should be received.
- 4.4 The result of either a Results Enquiry or an Appeal may be a higher grade, a lower grade, or no grade change. Full details of the Results Enquiry and the Appeals procedures are available at www.CambridgeESOL.org or from the address on the back of these Regulations.
- 4.5 It should be noted that an enquiry about the accuracy of a result is not the same as a request for feedback on the performance of a candidate (e.g. “where did he/she go wrong?”). Information about a candidate’s performance in individual papers is limited to what is contained in the Statement of Results. These are continually reviewed and revised in order to provide the most useful information about candidate performance that can be deduced from a single examination.
- 4.6 Cambridge ESOL may amend result information before the issue of certificates. Amendments to the results originally awarded may be due (rarely) to correction following an enquiry about a result, or (even more rarely) to the need to adjust marks for a particular paper following one of Cambridge ESOL’s routine post-examination quality checking procedures.
- 4.7 Certificates are issued through the centre to candidates with passing grades about one month after the issuing of Statements of Results. Cambridge ESOL certificates are important documents containing a number of security features in order to make it difficult for them to be forged or copied. Because of the value placed on them, Local Secretaries may require candidates to collect and sign for them in person.
- 4.8 Cambridge ESOL will only replace damaged certificates if the original has been damaged accidentally, the damaged certificate is returned and the original was issued less than five years ago. Where these circumstances apply, application should be made through the original centre of entry, with the appropriate fee and proof of identity.
- 4.9 Certificates are issued in the name of the candidate at the time the award was made. Replacement certificates will not be provided to accommodate a subsequent change of name.
- 4.10 A candidate who has lost a certificate may apply for a Certifying Statement of Results, for which a fee is payable.

5 Copyright

- 5.1 Cambridge ESOL holds the copyright on all question papers and examination material. Question papers and examination material may not be taken from the examination room or reproduced in whole or in part without permission in writing from Cambridge ESOL.
- 5.2 Candidates' answers and other work done by candidates as part of an examination will not be released to candidates, schools or centres.

6 Data protection

- 6.1 Cambridge ESOL meets the requirements of UK Data Protection legislation, and authorised examination centres are required to comply with local data protection and privacy laws.
- 6.2 Information provided by candidates when registering for a Cambridge ESOL examination will be used in the administration of the examination, and may be used as part of Cambridge ESOL's quality control and research activities. Work produced in the examination, will be used in the assessment of performance in the examination and may be used as part of Cambridge ESOL's quality control and research activities. Full details of these activities are available at www.CambridgeESOL.org or from the address on the back of these Regulations. This may include written work, and video and audio recordings of candidates' Speaking tests. Information will be stored securely for a limited period of time, except information which may later be needed to confirm the result awarded to a particular candidate, which is kept indefinitely.
- 6.3 Information on how candidates performed in the examination will be sent to the authorised centre through which they entered for the examination, and may be sent by the centre to their school or to another authorised third party for verification purposes. Work produced by candidates in the examination will not be returned to the candidate or to their school, and will not be kept by the centre.
- 6.4 Neither Cambridge ESOL nor any of its authorised centres will use candidates' personal details for any purpose which is not directly connected with administering the examinations without explicit consent.